Cleartronic, Inc. (CLRI) Subsidiary Expands ReadyOp(TM) Services With RTD - Denver

BOCA RATON, FL -- (Marketwired) -- 08/06/15 -- Cleartronic, Inc. (OTC PINK: CLRI), through its subsidiary ReadyOp Communications Inc., announces that Regional Transportation District - Denver \(RTD\) is expanding its use of ReadyOp™ software to include RTD's bus operations. RTD is the mass transit agency for the Denver area and operates more than 150 local, express and regional bus routes serving 10,000 bus stops, six light-rail lines and more than 70 Park-n-Rides.

"RTD has been using ReadyOp™ for the past two years in their security operations and are now expanding their use of ReadyOp™ to their bus operations. ReadyOp™ will be used as a part of their 24 hour operations," said Marc Moore, CEO of ReadyOp Communications, Inc., a subsidiary of Cleartronic.

Moore continues, "RTD is a very successful organization and we welcome the opportunity to add ReadyOp™ to this new area of their operations. Our relationship with RTD has become the basis for our plans to introduce ReadyOp™ into the top mass transit markets across the country. We are already in discussions with similar mass transit agencies in several cities."

Planning and communications are vital to success for all organizations. ReadyOp™ provides an easy and efficient, yet powerful capability for organizations, government agencies, universities and other groups for daily operations, to plan for special events and to plan and respond for incidents that may occur.
