Webcast of the Business Update Available Today at 1:30 Pacific

SANTA BARBARA, CA -- (Marketwired) -- 08/11/14 -- Save The World Air, Inc. (d\b\la STWA) (OTCQB: ZERO), a developer of integrated solutions for the energy industry, today provided a business update and announced financial results for the second quarter ended June 30, 2014.

"I am extremely pleased with our progress year to date," said Gregg Bigger, Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board. "We have achieved several major milestones for STWA including our testing programs with two current customers.

"Looking ahead, our goals include continuing testing with our customer, installing the second AOT system as well as a joule heat system with a potential customer for testing, continuing to make inroads with potential customers in the U.S. and Canada as well as exploring opportunities for acquisitions that could be complementary to our core operations and/or drive revenue that is accretive to the business. I believe we are well on our way to creating a business that capitalized on meeting the growing demand for flow technologies in the oil & gas industry," said Bigger.

Financial Results for the Six Months Ended June 30, 2014(All comparisons are for the six months ended June 30, 2014 compared with the six months ended June 30, 2013, unless otherwise stated. For details, please refer to the Company's Form 10-Q filed on August 11, 2014.)

- Total revenues were $60,000. The Company did not record revenues in the prior six-month period.
- Operating expenses declined by 33% to $1.8 million, compared with $2.7 million in 2013, due to a decrease in cash and non-cash expenses.
- Research and development costs declined 22% to $595,000, compared with $759,000 in 2013.
- Net loss totaled $2.4 million, or $0.01 per share, compared with a net loss of $338,000, or $0.0 per share for the first six months of 2013.
- Cash and equivalents at June 30, 2014 totaled $3.4 million. Taking into current cost-cutting measures, the Company believes its cash balance is sufficient to meet operational needs through June 2015. Management is currently exploring additional working capital resources.
- Solidified the management team overseen by a strong independent board of directors, each of whom has deep industry expertise and business acumen.
- Engaged new investor relations and corporate communications teams to build awareness for the Company and the investment potential through concerted and well orchestrated investor relations programming, support the goal of maximizing shareholder value and achieving quality communications across a number of channels.
