About MTIX

MTIX International (OTCBB:AVLP) owns MTIX Ltd., the developer and owner of the patented MLSE® (Multiplexed Laser Surface Enhancement) technology delivered to customers through a SaaS business model. MLSE® is the combination of multiple high energy sources, along with a unique mixture of gases, solids and/or liquids, for the purpose of directly synthesizing materials on and in a specified material substrate, with each unique combination of energies and constituents and substrate encoded into a Process Algorithm. In addition, the MLSE® platform can be used to deliver and enhance almost any existing precursor chemistry used for finishing, drastically reducing consumption of energy, water, and chemicals. As a patented novel technology for textile finishing applications, MLSE supports Industry 4.0 aims and greatly enhances the functionalization of fabrics, including: water, oil, and fuel repellency; fire retardancy; anti-microbial and Chemical Biowarfare (CBW) protection; and enhanced surface preparation for traditional and digital dyeing and printing. MTIX Ltd is located in Huddersfield, West Yorkshire, UK. Please visit the company's website at www.mtixinternational.com.
