Tailored Brands Names Retail Veteran Andrew Iwaskow EVP, Human Resources

FREMONT, Calif., Aug. 21, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- Tailored Brands, Inc. (NYSE: TLRD) today announced that Andrew Iwaskow has joined the Company as executive vice president, human resources. He will report to President and Chief Operating Officer Bruce K. Thorn and will serve on the Company's executive management committee.

Iwaskow will oversee all aspects of human resources while strengthening the Company's ability to attract, develop and retain outstanding talent. He joins the Company most recently from Toys "R" Us, where he served as vice president, marketplace human resources.

Iwaskow has more than 25 years of experience in leading human resources across corporate functions and field operations.

"We are pleased to bring Andrew on board to oversee talent acquisition, engagement and development across our organization," said Thorn. "Andrew is a strategic leader who has a proven track record of developing human resources strategies that enable companies to achieve and exceed their business goals, while developing a great working environment for employees."

"I am excited to join a leading omni-channel retailer that understands how important engaged employees are to delivering an outstanding customer experience and achieving long-term success," said Iwaskow. "I look forward to ensuring that we attract, develop and retain top talent to help us execute our strategy to innovate the best men's specialty store of the future."

Prior to Toys "R" Us, Mr. Iwaskow was with PetSmart, Inc., where he managed human resources strategies for more than 50,000 store employees in the U.S., Canada and Puerto Rico, as well as corporate and distribution center employees. In addition, he has held human resources leadership roles at Staples and Party City. Mr. Iwaskow holds a Master of Science in Organizational Behavior, Systems and Analytics from New York University and a Bachelor of Science in Organizational Management from Nyack College.
