About The Wall Street Analyst Forum

Since 1988, The Wall Street Analyst Forum has been a sponsor of annual analyst conferences for NYSE/NASDAQ/AMEX corporations in New York, Boston and London. Our conferences support participating companies by inviting all buy/sell side analyst and portfolio managers to attend while leveraging the use of three new media channels. Analyst and portfolio managers from the majority of money management firms attend our conferences while large, mid, and small cap corporations attend. Over 2,500 public corporations have presented ranging from General Electric, Nokia, Pfizer, Motorola, Inc., KB Homes to Adobe Systems.

Except for the historical information herein, the matters discussed in this news release include forward-looking statements, as defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements reflect management's current knowledge, assumptions, judgment and expectations regarding future performance or events. Although management believes that the expectations reflected in such statements are reasonable, readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, as they are subject to various risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to vary materially. These risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, risks relating to: product and technology development; the uncertainty of the market for Arotech's products; changing economic conditions; delay, cancellation or non-renewal, in whole or in part, of contracts or of purchase orders; dilution resulting from issuances of Arotech's common stock upon conversion or payment of its outstanding convertible debt, which would be increasingly dilutive if and to the extent that the market price of Arotech's stock decreases; and other risk factors detailed in Arotech's most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2008 and other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
