Mark Meller, CEO of SilverSun stated, "Our proprietary Software as a Service(SaaS) solution, BeerRun®, continues to win market share in the craft beer brewing industry, providing brewers with a cost-effective tool for the brewing, kegging, packaging and distribution of their product."

Jeffrey D. Roth, CEO of SilverSun's wholly-owned subsidiary, SWK Technologies, Inc. stated that "BeerRun is one of 20 proprietary solutions that we publish and sell directly, as well as through various sales channels. We continue to focus on the development of both cloud-based and on-premises solutions, and are very excited about the growth and potential of our catalog of proprietary products."

Steve Plisk, BeerRun's Practice Leader said "The control that our customers now have over their beer production, along with the comprehensive reporting and business intelligence they now have, has caught the attention of the industry. We like what we see."
