Revenue during the three months ending June 30, 2019 were below the prior year period by ($0.8) million, or (12.7%) primarily due to completion of the Optex Richardson DDAN sighting systems program during the first quarter of 2019, combined with a decrease in commercial optical assembly revenues at the Applied Optics Center from the prior year three month period. We continue to see growth in other military programs offsetting much of the decline in sighting systems and commercial optical assemblies across both segments. During the nine month period, our revenues have grown significantly, by $2.9 million, or 18.6%, driven by increased domestic military sales concentrated in our Optex-Richardson segment. During the three months ending June 30, 2019, our gross margin percentage declined by (4.3%) to 20.1% from 24.4%, primarily due to changes in product mix, away from the higher margin sighting systems in the prior year quarter, combined with higher periscope production costs in the current year quarter on our periscope line due to supplier issues, increased rework and labor inefficiencies. Our nine month gross margin has improved over the prior nine year nine month performance by 1.2% and is driven by revenue shifts from our less profitable commercial products toward higher margin military laser filters combined with production efficiency improvements at our Applied Optics Center segment.

We recognized a gain on the change in fair value of warrants of ($0.1) million and a loss of $0.5 million during the three and nine months ended June 30, 2019, as compared to a gain of ($0) million and ($2.0) million in the prior year three and nine month periods. The change in fair value during the current three and nine month periods is primarily driven by changes in the stock price from $1.71 as of September 30, 2018 to $2.06 as of June 30, 2019, combined with fluctuations in stock volatility, U.S Treasury interest rates and the remaining warrant term. The prior year gain in fair value of warrants is attributable to a change in accounting estimate on the warrant liability of our outstanding warrants to incorporate new market information into the valuation model related to the volatility of the stock prices and OTC market trading data. Fair value gains and losses are non-cash "other income and expense" adjustments driven by changes in fair market value of our outstanding warrants and are unrelated to our core business operating performance, as such, the amounts have been excluded from our adjusted EBITDA presented below.

We use adjusted earnings before interest, taxes, gains/losses on changes in fair values, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) as an additional measure for evaluating the performance of our business as "net income" includes the significant impact of noncash valuation gains and losses on warrant liabilities, noncash compensation expenses related to equity stock issues, as well as depreciation, amortization, interest expenses and federal income taxes. We believe that adjusted EBITDA is a meaningful indicator of our operating performance because it permits period-over-period comparisons of our ongoing core operations before the excluded items. Adjusted EBITDA is a financial measure not required by, or presented in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP").

Our adjusted EBITDA decreased by ($0.4) million to $0.4 million during the three months ended June 30, 2019 as compared $0.8 million during the three months ended July 1, 2018 on lower revenue and gross margin. For the nine months ended June 30, 2019, our adjusted EBITDA increased by $0.8 million to $2.5 million as compared as compared $1.7 million during the nine months ended July 1, 2018. EBITDA improvements for the nine months are directly correlated with significant increases in revenue, changes in product mix and improvements in our gross margins during the three and nine month periods over the prior year period performance.

The table below summarizes our three month operating results for periods ended June 30, 2019 and July 1, 2018, in terms of both the GAAP net income measure and the non-GAAP adjusted EBITDA measure. We believe that including both measures allows the reader to have a "complete picture" of our overall performance.

We ended the nine month period with working capital of $10.6 million and $0.9 million in cash and cash equivalents as compared to working capital of $8.5 million and $1.1 million in cash and cash equivalents as of the year ended September 30, 2018.

During the three months ended June 30, 2019, we recorded a net income applicable to common shareholders of $0.25 million as compared to a net income applicable to common shareholders of $0.39 million during the three months ended July 1, 2018. The decrease in net income of ($0.14) million is primarily attributable to decreased operating income of ($0.4) million, changes in the gain on the fair value of warrant liabilities of $0.1 million, lower federal income tax expenses of $0.2 million between the respective periods. During the nine months ended June 30, 2019, we recorded a net income applicable to common shareholders of $1.0 million as compared to net income applicable to common shareholders of $2.1 million during the nine months ended July 1, 2018. The decrease in net income of ($1.1) million is primarily attributable to increased operating income of $0.9 million offset by the increase in the fair value of warrant liability of ($2.5) million, increased federal income taxes of ($0.1) million and changes in declared and deemed dividends on participating securities of $0.6 million.

Based on increased backlog and orders during the first half of fiscal year 2019, Optex Systems Holdings, Inc. anticipates strong performance for the remaining three months of the current fiscal year as compared to the prior year fourth quarter and the current year third quarter performance. We anticipate revenue for our military products to continue at the elevated level with corresponding increases in gross margin, profitability and EBITDA to continue into the fiscal year 2020.

Danny Schoening, CEO of Optex Systems Holdings, Inc., commented, "We are extremely pleased with our cumulative performance for the first nine months and remain optimistic about the industry and overall defense related spending. Internally, we continue to work supply chain and labor issues like our peers in the industry while we adjust to the growing demand. We continue to see efficiency gains in our Applied Optics Center, and are focused on initiatives to improve supplier performance and production efficiencies at our Optex Richardson segment. We continue to see our position within the market strengthen and our backlog remains strong as we continue to see increased revenue, increased gross margin, and increased earnings."
