Management Comments

Mr. Richard A. Wright, president and CEO of the Alkaline Water Company, stated, "This has been a monumental year for the company, both financially and operationally. It began with our strategy to expand our footprint across the country and to focus greater efforts on the single-serve category. Through improving our operations with the opening of new bottling facilities, and better revenue generation, we were able to increase our revenue by 80 percent compared to the prior year and attain better margins. In just four short years, we have taken our sales from $0.6 million to $12.7 million. Moreover, by focusing on streamlining our operating cost structure, we reduced our operating costs by 22 percent.

With improved operating efficiency and economies of scale as our sales increase, we have been able to expand our gross margin to 42.5 percent from 37.5 percent."

"Moreover, we have forged strong relationships with our retail partners, who are very pleased with the performance of our product. We are extremely proud to have generated results that reflect the benefits of our national expansion and significant additions of new stores," continued Mr. Wright. "We expect to build on the strong foundation that we have developed with our network of retail relationships, as more and more consumers gain access to the Alkaline88[®] brand and the shift to water within the $2.5 billion premium beverage hydration category continues."

"Further confirmation of our increasing success and our growth in production facilities has contributed to our first-quarter projected gross sales of $5 million. We are expecting similar quarter-over-quarter growth throughout the remainder of the year, and our projections currently target a $24 million revenue goal for fiscal 2018."

"Our full-scale national expansion effort has been met with great success. With our new production capabilities in the Northeast, along with the addition of multiple national retailers that serve the East, we are now becoming known as a national brand by both the beverage industry and consumers alike. We commend our new executive sales team, which has secured multiple national accounts in just five short months with the company. We expect to see many more additions of national accounts throughout FY 18."
