Management Commentary

"While the first quarter of 2020 presented remarkable challenges resulting from the global response to the coronavirus pandemic, we were able to make progress on our strategic initiatives and continue to serve our loyal customer base as a premier service provider and trusted partner," said Ralph Clark, CEO of ShotSpotter. "Financially, the quarter was marked by moderate revenue growth, solid gross margins, positive net income, and an improvement in our cash position by approximately $4 million from the end of last year.

"Operationally, despite the proliferation of 'stay-at-home' policies and a moratorium on travel since early March, we completed our full deployment in Puerto Rico, added two new Missions deployments, re-signed the U.S. Virgin Islands as a customer, and were able to add five net new go-live miles during the quarter.

"Our investments in people, process, and infrastructure have afforded us a great deal of operational resiliency. We continue to monitor our 100+ deployments, review and classify gunshots all without any diminution of quality or performance. With a robust cash position, strong unit economics, and good visibility from our recurring revenue base and solid pipeline, we believe we have the right foundation in place to ensure we can successfully navigate these uncertain times."

First Quarter 2020 Financial Results

Revenues for the first quarter of 2020 increased 9% to $10.5 million from $9.6 million for the same period in 2019. The increase in revenues was due to growth in the number of miles covered, which was driven by expanded deployments with current customers as well as the addition of new customers, offset by delays in both deploying contracted miles and renewals with certain customers. The company currently expects to close the majority of the delayed renewals in the second quarter of 2020.

Gross profit for the first quarter of 2020 was $6.1 million (58.5% of revenue), an improvement from $5.6 million (58.3% of revenue) for the same period in 2019. Gross margin was impacted by the formalization of our customer success organization which resulted in an increase in costs classified within cost of revenues.

Total operating expenses for the first quarter of 2020 were $6.1 million compared to $5.9 million for the same period in 2019. The increase in operating expenses was primarily due to investments in sales and marketing, higher insurance costs, offset by the reallocation of certain resources to build our customer success organization.

Net income for the first quarter of 2020 totaled $13,000 or $0.00 per basic and diluted share (based on 11.3 million basic and 11.7 million diluted weighted average shares outstanding), an improvement from net loss of $362,000 or $0.03 per share (based on 11.0 million basic and diluted weighted average shares outstanding) for the same period in 2019.

Adjusted EBITDA for the first quarter of 2020 totaled $2.2 million, an improvement from $1.6 million for the same period in 2019.

2020 Financial Outlook

Based on management's current visibility, the company has updated its revenue range for the full fiscal year of 2020 to reflect its current anticipated impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on its operations. The company now forecasts revenue to range between $43 million and $46 million (previously $46 million to $48 million), representing an increase of 9% at the midpoint compared to fiscal year 2019. The company continues to expect to remain GAAP profitable on an annual basis.

The company's financial outlook statements are based on current expectations. The preceding statements are forward-looking, and actual results could differ materially

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

Adjusted EBITDA: ShotSpotter discloses the following non-GAAP financial measure in this release and the earnings call referencing this press release: Adjusted EBITDA, which represents the company’s net income or loss before interest (income) expense, income taxes, depreciation and amortization and stock-based compensation expense. Adjusted EBITDA is a measure used by management internally to understand and evaluate the company’s core operating performance and trends across accounting periods and in connection with developing future operating plans, making strategic decisions regarding the allocation of capital and considering initiatives focused on cultivating new markets for our solutions. In particular, the exclusion of these expenses in calculating adjusted EBITDA facilitates comparisons of the company’s operating performance on a period-to-period basis.

ShotSpotter believes adjusted EBITDA also provides useful information to investors and others in understanding and evaluating our operating results in the same manner as our management and board of directors. For example, ShotSpotter adjusts EBITDA for stock-based compensation expense because that expense often varies for reasons that are generally unrelated to financial and operational performance in any particular period. Stock-based compensation is utilized by ShotSpotter to attract and retain employees with a goal of long-term retention and the alignment of employee interests with those of the Company and its stockholders, rather than to address operational performance for any particular period.

Adjusted EBITDA is not a measure calculated in accordance with GAAP. Accordingly, use of adjusted EBITDA has limitations as an analytical tool, and you should not consider it in isolation or as a substitute for analysis of ShotSpotter's financial results as reported under GAAP. Some of these limitations are: (1) adjusted EBITDA does not reflect the potentially dilutive impact of equity-based compensation; and (2) other companies, including companies in our industry, may calculate adjusted EBITDA or similarly titled measures differently, which reduces the usefulness of the metric as a comparative measure. Because of these and other limitations, you should consider adjusted EBITDA alongside our GAAP-based financial performance measures, in particular net income or loss, and our other GAAP financial results.

The following table presents a reconciliation of adjusted EBITDA to net income or loss, the most directly comparable GAAP measure, for each of the periods indicated:
