ActiveCare Expands Relationship With RxBenefits

OREM, Utah, June 10, 2014 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- ActiveCare, Inc. (OTCBB:ACAR), a leader in diabetes management and wellness services for self-insured employers nationwide, today announced a contract with a large hospital network in Baton Rouge, LA to provide diabetic monitoring services and supplies. The initial deployment of the devices and supplies was accomplished through ActiveCare's relationship with RxBenefits.

"We are pleased to expand our relationship with RxBenefits by providing our diabetic management services to another RxBenefits' customer," stated David Derrick, CEO of ActiveCare. "We will provide our services and solutions to over 225 diabetic patients through the large hospital network. This deployment was completed in conjunction with our partner RxBenefits, who has been a key driver in our growth of members over the past few months. The relationship with RxBenefits has provided ActiveCare with over 1,700 diabetic members through 30 different employer groups. We expect that RxBenefits will continue to add new users to our real-time care programs in the near future. This contract combined with several others on the near horizon will drive strong growth in the second half of the year. We have spent the first 5 months of 2014 successfully positioning ourselves to close several new large contracts that will provide a significant increase in revenues and lead us to profitability in the near-term."
