Avalanche Int'l Reports Purchase Update of JS Technologies, Maker of Suhr Brand

Company Reaffirms Name Change of Subsidiary to Puff Systems, LLC, Divestiture Possible

LAS VEGAS, NV -- (Marketwired) -- 01/26/16 -- Avalanche International, Corp(OTC PINK: AVLP) announced today that it has made progress in its raising of capital for the purchase of JS Technologies, Inc., the maker of Suhr brand guitars. The Company has received multiple term sheets inclusive of both equity and debt financing that are undergoing due diligence, along with commitments of owner rolled-equity and offers to finance the plant, property and equipment. JS Technologies, Inc. is maker of world-renowned Suhr guitars, Custom Audio amplifiers and other branded high-end musical instruments and electronics.

John Suhr stated, "We are very excited about moving forward with AVLP. AVLP leadership has demonstrated commitment to the same core values that JS Technologies was founded upon. Their commitment to US manufacturing, respect for high quality craftsmanship, attention to detail and quality customer service, is without question."

"Having worked closely with the JS Technologies management team since July 2015, I am firmly convinced that the team has built a strong foundation for the company that includes a deep commitment to quality and manufacturing excellence as its cornerstones. It is upon this foundation that the team will scale their American based manufacturing platform across all existing and future musical instrument and accessory brands," said Philip Mansour, President and CEO of Avalanche International, Corp.

The Company reported that some of the term sheets providing financing for the purchase of JS Technologies include a stipulation that requires AVLP to become a publicly traded musical instrument holding company. The clause will require AVLP to either sell or divest its wholly-owned subsidiary, Smith and Ramsay Brands along with Puff Systems and all its interest in the Vape marketplace. In a related note, the Company reaffirmed the name change of the subsidiary to Puff Systems, LLC. The Company's sale or divestiture is dependent on the set of term sheets it ultimately accepts and will be completed sometime after the close of the transaction with JS Technologies.

This past week the National Association of Music Merchants held their annual conference and expo at the Anaheim Convention Center with over 100,000 attendees. JS Technologies successfully presented its new products for 2016 and hosted factory visits for its dealers and other attendees during the event. NAMM is one of the two largest events for musical instrument manufacturers and is a key platform to showcase the Suhr family of brands and products. Mr. Mansour offered this compliment, "JST did very well in presenting its new products for the year to the show's attendees and its dealer base while providing a wonderful showcase of its products in two nights of private hosted parties."

The Company stated it is very optimistic it will soon close the purchase of JS Technologies and reminds all investors, shareholders and creditors that this transaction is dependent upon the Company obtaining the necessary financing through debt and/or equity financing arrangements. Although the management of the Company is working to secure the capital required to close this transaction, which they believe is imminent, there is a risk that such additional financing will not be available to the Company on acceptable terms or in the amounts required.
