InterCloud Systems Awarded New Contracts Valued at Over $6.0 Million

Company Continues to Explore Means to Increase Shareholder Value

NEW YORK, Aug. 04, 2016 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- InterCloud Systems, Inc. (the "Company" or "InterCloud") (NASDAQ:ICLD), a leading provider of cloud networking orchestration and automation solutions and services, today announced that it was recently awarded over $6.0 million in new contracts and purchase orders for professional services, network services and maintenance for new and existing customers. A majority of the work is expected to begin immediately.

Mark Munro, CEO of InterCloud Systems stated: "InterCloud continues to grow revenue and build a backlog. Our traditional IT services and products business continues to provide steady revenue while our customers are beginning to deploy next generation Software Defined Networking (SDN) applications. We are confident our recent rapid growth around SDN and virtual network function validation services will continue to offer InterCloud exciting new opportunities."

Mr. Munro continued: "While we grow our revenues, we are also exploring means to enhance shareholder value through the divestment of non-critical assets as well as the restructuring of balance sheet liabilities."

About InterCloud Systems, Inc.

InterCloud Systems, Inc. is a leading provider of cloud networking orchestration and automation, for Software Defined Networking (SDN) and Network Function Virtualization (NFV) cloud environments to the telecommunications service provider (carrier) and corporate enterprise markets through cloud solutions and professional services. InterCloud's cloud solutions offer enterprise and service-provider customers the opportunity to adopt an operational expense model by outsourcing cloud deployment and management to InterCloud rather than the capital expense model that has dominated in recent decades in IT infrastructure management.
