SinglePoint to Present at the National Investment Banking Conference, Provides Update on Kevin Harrington Commercial Launch, Crypto Wallet and LastMile Delivery

SEATTLE, June 26, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- via OTC PR WIRE -- SinglePoint Inc. (OTCQB:SING) is set to present at NIBA, National Investment Banking Association Conference in New York. In the past six months, SinglePoint completed audits, up-listed to the OTCQB, filed a Form 10 to become a fully reporting company. All with the intention of increasing transparency and allowing for shareholders to have additional flexibility and liquidity. Additionally, company executives believe these steps will help attract accretive opportunities for the company.

NIBA held in NYC gives the company the opportunity to attract additional institutional coverage due to the improvements in the corporate structure. NIBA is one of the premier investment banking conferences. Management will be presenting and meeting with investors during the two-day conference with the goal of increasing visibility and continuing to build momentum for SinglePoint.

“NIBA is a great opportunity for SinglePoint. Previously we were unable to effectively present at these large investment banking forums. Now that we have successfully filed our Form 10 the company has many more accretive opportunities. We look forward to introducing SinglePoint to the family office and institutional investment community through NIBA,” states Greg Lambrecht CEO SinglePoint.

Additionally the company is set to launch the cryptocurrency application and national commercial campaign in the coming weeks. The crypto application, which was co-created with AppSwarm (OTC:SWRM), is planned to launch in the coming days on IOS and Android devices. Once fully published, SinglePoint will be able to launch the national ad campaign that is already approved on multiple national media outlets.

“This has been a long time coming with many speed bumps and unexpected delays, but that's what happens when you are building an application from the ground up that is innovative. Couple that with a national ad campaign and we really set the bar high. We are beyond excited to be so close to the finish line. The commercial is done, the wallet is almost fully functioning, we are now finalizing sending Bitcoin to another address which will complete the development for initial release. We expect to be done in the coming days, followed by a few days of testing and launch. As mentioned previously, with the help of AppSwarm, we built this application from scratch to the highest security standards available now. This is the first of many projects we intend to launch in the near future,” states Wil Ralston President SinglePoint.

The company has been full steam ahead on many project all of which are near completion. LastMile Delivery is currently being tested and is fully functional from inception to completion of order. The company is working with beta clients that will provide initial feedback and changes in the coming weeks. SinglePoint and AppSwarm intend to deliver a full production application in July. Adding to the excitement of this launch the companies are working collaboratively to launch into the Canadian cannabis market which is set to be fully legal October 17th. LastMile Delivery will provide efficiencies for the legal medical and recreational cannabis retailers. For more information please visit LastMileDelivery.io.

In addition to the company’s internal developments, SinglePoint is continuing to pursue potential acquisition targets. Management is currently negotiating a definitive agreement and going through due diligence. SinglePoint has plans to continue its acquisition strategy and continue pursuing accretive opportunities to build the overall value of SinglePoint.
